AURORA

Eleonora is the ideal mattress for those who need medium support for the back and the correct alignment of the spine.

It is able to provide optimal comfort and support following the curves of the body thanks to the combination of Memory Breeze and its differentiated load bearing workmanship.

It is perfectly balanced, creating a delicate enveloping effect with constant air exchange.

Its excellent breathability prevents humidity stagnation.

This improves the quality of the user's sleep for various reasons.

The main one is that by reducing night sweats, the deep sleep phase is more stable and less agitated, which therefore prevents sudden awakenings, making sleep more restful.

The Eleonora mattress is available in two versions, with medium load bearing or with sustained load bearing.

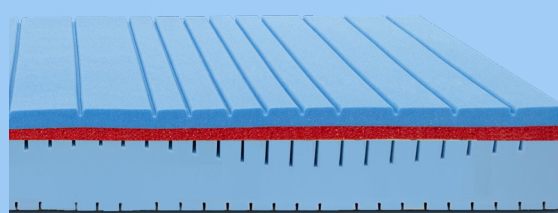

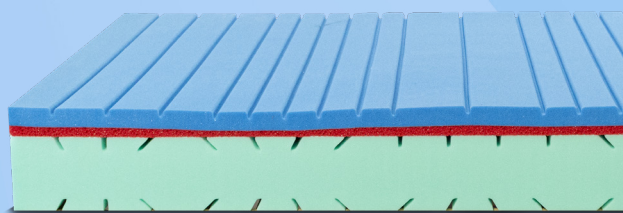

MATERIALS:

The Eleonora mattress cover is available in the following variants: Outlast, Tencel e Seta.
